NEWS, CLASSES & EVENTS

Maryland's First Lady exhibits this summer

Marylanders know her as their state's First Lady, wife of Governor Larry Hogan. Many do not know that Yumi Hogan is also an accomplished artist. The Art League of Ocean City is proud to be devoting the Thaler Gallery to her work during July and August 2017.

Hogan's exhibition, entitled "Nature's Rhythmic Alliance," will showcase her abstract landscape paintings produced in Sumi ink on Korean Hanji paper, acrylic, and Asian techniques.

The South Korean-born Hogan met her husband at an art show in Columbia, Md. She received her BFA from the Maryland Institute College of Art, and her MFA from American University. Hogan has had more than 14 solo exhibitions and was part of a 2017 group show at the National Museum of Women in the Arts.

Hogan teaches as an adjunct faculty member at her MICA alma mater and plans to support the arts community and social issues such as those affecting single mothers.

13th annual Sand Castle Home Tour is Sept. 22-23

Docent Becky Simonds talks about the Outten home in Bishopville in 2016.

The 13th annual self-guided tour, a fundraiser for the programs of the non-profit Art League of Ocean City, will feature ten beautiful homes in the Ocean City and northern Worcester County area. There's a great variety of homes, from ocean front to bayside, family homes to penthouses and beach retreats.

Volunteer docents staff each home, guide visitors through the rooms and outdoor spaces, and answer questions about the house and its unique features.

Tickets are $30 per person for the two days, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 22-23, 9:30 a.m. - 4 p.m. each day and include a guidebook, directions and special offers.

To kick off the event, a cocktail party, "Get Your Groove On," will be held at the Gateway Grand on Wednesday, Sept. 13 at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are available at the Ocean City Center for the Arts, by calling 410-524-9433 or online at www.artleagueofoceancity.org.

Artists paint "plein air" in August

More than 50 artists take to the scenic areas of Ocean City and surrounding county to paint outdoors where the public can watch them make their magic. The Wet Paint Sale on Saturday puts what they painted up for sale!

Sen. Mathias is auctioneer at youth art auction

On Friday, April 28, students from Pocomoke Middle and High Schools and Cedar Chapel School put their best work up for auction at the "Exceptional Abilities Art Show" to raise funds for their school art programs. State Senator Jim Mathias drummed up the amazing support for the student work. More than 80 people attended the auction, and a good time was had by all!

The next generation of artists

Scholarship winners 2017

The SDHS mural project

Students from Stephen Decatur High School, all in the French class of teacher Darlene Idoni-McCann, painted three murals promoting positive thinking and hung them on the fence at the tennis courts next to the Ocean City Center for the Arts on 94th St. Helping with the project were (left) Ian Postley, former SDHS student, and graduating seniors Peyton Dunham, Betsy Barb, teacher Idoni-McCann, Bethany Williams, Brennan Holloway, and Stella Cunningham.

*A message from our Board President,
Marian Bickerstaff*

What an exciting spring it has been at the Ocean City Center for the Arts including a month-long celebration of "The Divine Feminine." Thank you, Deb Rolig, for curating the sensational exhibit and Kathleen Martens and all the writers who contributed their voices to the "Anthology of Seaside Scribes." If you haven't purchased your copy of the literary work of local talented women, they are still available.

Thanks to many of you who have recently purchased a Legacy Paver for our courtyard. We are sorry for the delay in the installation, but hope you come out and visit your paver. It is so interesting to walk through the courtyard and read all the messages inspired by art. Wouldn't it be great if every paver was engraved?

Again, we thank our Corporate Partners for continued support as you renew your sponsorships. We are grateful for the generous support of our business community through corporate partnerships, event sponsorships, and donations.

Our annual events — Artists Paint OC, the Sand Castle Gala and Home Tour — are coming up, and we will need lots of volunteers to make it all happen! Be sure to save the date of September 13th to "get your groove on"!

A message from our Executive Director, Rina Thaler

Recently I had a woman ask if she could speak to me privately. Not knowing what to expect, I asked her to come into my office and shut the door. She began to pour her heart out to me and tell me how much her life has changed since she started coming to the Arts Center.

She said she moved here a few years ago after losing her husband, and her life was at a low point. She did not know anyone in the area, felt isolated and depressed, and didn't know how she would go on.

One day she walked into the Arts Center just to see what was in here. While she had never made art before, she was amazed at how beautiful the building was and how nice everyone was to her. She signed up for a beginner watercolor class and was hooked. Since then she has tried pottery, jewelry making, and drawing classes. She said not only has she enjoyed all the classes, she has regained her confidence in life, and made so many wonderful friends here. She was here that day to drop off her first piece to be exhibited in one of our shows!

Her story made me realize how important the work we do here at the Arts Center is. Art brings people together in ways that nothing else can. It inspired me to write this little verse that I will share with you:

*"Art can't cure disease or protect a child from being abused.
But art can mend a broken spirit, raise a child's self esteem, and make life worth living."*

I invite you to send me your stories about how your lives have been impacted by the Ocean City Center for the Arts. Please email them to me at rtthaler@artleagueofoceancity.org or put them in the mail.

We could not produce all of the exciting activities and events you will find in this catalogue without the support and participation of our members and donors.

As our donor wall in the foyer says, "Art inspires generosity," and your response has been overwhelming. Thank you to everyone who has helped to make this Arts Center a vibrant space filled with creative energy.

I feel blessed each day to have the opportunity to serve our community.

Welcome to our new Event/Development Coordinator

Georgette Greason of Ocean View joins our team to assist with donor relations and special events.

Originally from New York State, she holds a BS in special education from Florida International University, and an MS in education from Western Connecticut State University. She has previously volunteered extensively in the nonprofit sector, working in development, fund-raising and grant writing.

"Working collaboratively, I look forward to establishing partnerships with those who value, appreciate and understand the importance of supporting a vibrant arts community," Greason said.

Art Can Clean Beaches

We are so proud that the Ocean City Council has approved our pilot program to paint beach trashcans with eye-catching anti-litter messages.

The "Art Can Clean Beaches" program was originally developed by the Green Team as a way to remind beachgoers that trash belongs in the receptacles and not in the sand. Then they gave us the reins to implement the project.

The Art League received a $5,000 grant to print vinyl wraps through the Maryland Environmental Trust's "Clean up, Green up Maryland" fund. Sponsorships cost $260 per can or $750 for three cans, with $10 of each going to future beach cleanup efforts. Since we are nonprofit, they are tax deductible.

Art League team paints boxes to beautify OC

Wanted: Art ideas/painters for Ocean City utility boxes

The Art League is in search of artists to submit designs for a chance to have their original artwork featured on utility boxes throughout Ocean City, that will be seen by millions of visitors to our busy resort. This is a special opportunity to be part of a community art project while raising awareness and funds for the Art League. Volunteers will assist in painting the designs on the utility boxes. Please mail your ideas to the Arts Center or send by e-mail to katie@artleagueofoceancity.org.
