FROM OUR ART LEAGUE PRESIDENT

A recent study out of Johns Hopkins shows that volunteering actually increases your brain functioning and can slow the shrinking of brain tissue that naturally begins in middle age and beyond. Other studies have found that volunteering reduces stress, decreases the risk of depression, increases self-confidence, and creates a "happiness effect" by releasing dopamine in the brain.

So what are you waiting for? Improve your health, and make Ocean City a better place to live at the same time. It's a no-brainer!

The Art League needs help with the Art Adventure Camp, Art X in Northside Park, Artists Paint OC plein air event, the Sand Castle Home Tour, scheduled classes, Free Family Art Days, First Friday receptions, and other programs, as well.

Debbi Dean-Colley, our Volunteer Coordinator, stands ready to help you create a volunteer experience that fits with your interests and time schedule. Stop by the Arts Center and fill out an application, or leave a message for Debbi at 410-524-9433 or debbi@artleagueofoceancity.org. She'll get back to you lickety-split.

You are going to have fun!

John Sisson, Art League President

FROM OUR ART LEAGUE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

There is more to Ocean City than just the beach, and that is most apparent when you look at the lineup of events, classes and exhibits we have planned.

In July, pop by to see the iconic silkscreen images of Erick Sahler and Joseph Craig English in the gallery and view the outstanding artwork in our juried Beverly Bassford Show. Take an art class and learn something new in painting, pottery, glass, and more. Send your kids or grandchildren to our Art Adventure Camp, where they are sure to have a great time creating and meeting new friends.

From August 7th to 11th, watch 50 artists from all over the United States compete in our annual Artist Paint OC Plein Air event. Be the first to collect the paintings of local scenes at the Wet Paint Sale on Saturday and the fresh-off-the-easel Quick Draw Sale on Sunday.

Also in August, join Brooke Rogers, our Fellow for Contemporary Art and Community Engagement, for a series of talks on contemporary art and how it connects to society. Then take in our August exhibit featuring work by Rogers himself as well as noted artists Jinchul Kim and Ed Brown.

Immerse yourself in art at Art X, a two-day art and music festival at Northside Park on August 24-25, where you can view independent films, take workshops, enjoy a chalk art competition, watch demonstrations, and shop for original art and craft.

Celebrate 15 years of our Sand Castle Home Tour at the Party of the Year on September 11. Then tour ten fabulous homes in the Ocean City area for one great cause on September 19-20.

Oh, and don't forget to use sunscreen if you happen to make it to the beach! Have a great summer!

Rina Thaler

Art League Executive Director
