FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

FREE DRIVE-IN MOVIE AT OC CONVENTION CENTER
ON AUG. 4 DURING WHITE MARLIN OPEN
WILL FEATURE FILM ABOUT THE FISHING EVENT

OCEAN CITY, MD — July 27, 2020 — The Ocean City Film Festival continues its free Tuesday Drive-In Movie Nights at the Ocean City Convention Center on Aug. 4 at 8 p.m. with a feature film about the White Marlin Open as well as entries from the 3rd Annual Ocean City Film Challenge 2020.

“Five Days in August” is a feature-length documentary film about Ocean City’s status as the White Marlin Capital of the World. The film by Emmy-award winner filmmaker Nick Ruff follows the drama and competition of 353 boats angling for the biggest fish and a prize of nearly $5 million. The showing is timed to coincide with the White Marlin Open event, Aug. 3-7.

The Drive-In Movie Night will also show entries from the Ocean City Film Challenge, a yearly contest to encourage and present short films in or about Ocean City. This year, ten filmmakers from across the tri-state region are competing for cash prizes and festival accolades. Ocean City Film Festival Director B.L. Strang-Moya will announce the winners in a video following the Film Challenge screenings and before “Five Days in August.”

Total run time for the film night is under two hours. Admission is free. The Ocean City Convention Center parking lot at 4001 Coastal Hwy. provides a big screen, quality sound, and social distancing of vehicles.
