RIISING UP TO CHALLENGING TIMES

There have been changes, to be sure, and many things may never be the same. Moreover, feelings of frustration and isolation are a natural consequence of disruption from the Covid-19 emergency. That is why the power of the arts to bring comfort and healing, to create a sense of community, is more important than ever. That is why our artists, members, volunteers and staff have been working so hard to create new avenues of participation, and to keep our valued traditions alive.

Thanks to favorable weather and a tent purchased with a grant from the Community Foundation of the Eastern Shore, Art Adventure Camp continued for five weeks this summer, with a few less kids but garnering no less smiles. The campers' art on display, now open once again seven days a week, was nothing short of phenomenal.

We used that same tent shelter for our annual "Artists Paint OC" Plein Air event. Social distancing did not diminish the quality of artwork submitted, and a stormy "Quick Draw" competition on Sunday brought forth some truly amazing compositions.

Not even a few raindrops dampened the enthusiasm at the annual ArtX extravaganza in Northside Park, organized in partnership with Ocean City Parks and Recreation. The monthly Film Festival offerings went to a drive-in format at the Convention Center, with supplemental viewings online. "Originals Only" has also moved to a virtual format. We are having fun and making a difference.

Maintaining tradition is vital in troubled times, and we are creating new ones as we adapt to circumstance and continue to support our constituency. We are especially proud of our outreach to youth, providing free online classes, free art supplies through the Worcester Public Schools, a recent month-long "OC Memories" art contest, and much more. Browse through our website for a taste of what we do and what is coming up.

Our special thanks to the artists and buyers who made our online art auction such a great success. Kudos also to everyone who stepped up to our Covid-19 Emergency Fund. With many of our corporate donors facing hard times, and with in-person events cancelled, individual efforts are more important than ever. We are holding on, but we're not out of the woods.

We hope to see everyone on our Virtual Sandcastle Home Tour, October 1 - 15. It's going to set a new gold standard for online participation. You will love it, and we appreciate your support.

A BENEFIT FOR DIAKONIA AND THE ART LEAGUE

Sponsored by First Shore Federal and Shore United Bank

Make or buy a bowl and make a difference

The Empty Bowl Project is a unique opportunity to fight hunger locally and benefit the Diakonia food bank and the programs of the Art League.

The project is an international grassroots effort to fight hunger and a unique opportunity to use art in a way that helps the community. Empty Bowl events take place across the United States and other countries, and have raised millions of dollars to help fight hunger.

You are invited to hand-make a ceramic bowl during on-site Sunday bowl-making sessions at the Ocean City Center for the Arts. No experience is necessary, and all materials are included in the $25 fee. We will practice social distancing and mask wearing during the sessions.

Our pottery studio manager, Robbie Johnson, will guide you through the process. Please note that morning sessions are actual bowl-making sessions using raw clay where you can shape and imprint your own design. Afternoon sessions are decorating sessions where you embellish an already-made bowl hand-produced on the wheel by Robbie.

INNOVATE WITH US!

Challenging times call for innovation, and as a creative arts organization, we feel it is our duty to innovate to bring engaging arts programming to our community. We gladly accept the challenge!

Our 16th annual Sand Castle Home tour is an example of how we have been able to not only adapt to the new normal, but to shape it. The tour provided the funds to construct the Arts Center and has been our sustaining fundraiser and a great friend-raiser over the past 16 years. This year, rather than cancel the event, we have collaborated with Coastal Style magazine to produce a professional quality virtual tour.

We are so excited to present this new digital format, as it allows us to feature fabulous never-before-seen homes from all over Delmarva. The virtual tour can be accessed from anywhere, and tour takers can come back as many times as they like from October 1-15 and enter to win daily prizes. The virtual tour will feature professional videos and drone footage, interviews with decorators and the homeowners themselves, and will provide you with decorating tips and resources for your own homes.

All-access tour passes are $30, and you can take a tour preview of the featured homes and buy your passes at SandCastleHomeTour.com. Passes include watch parties where you can gather with friends who have also purchased tour tickets. Your ticket supports the Art League, as all funds raised from the tour go directly to our operations.

In addition to the home tour, October features our annual exhibitions, lectures, workshops, awards, and related programs focusing on women, in a show entitled VISION curated by visionary artists and sisters Deborah Rolig and Diane Gray. The collaboration takes on new urgency as our nation celebrates the 100-year anniversary of women's right to vote.

Like all of our programming, we have had to modify the format to present a safe environment, and the exhibit will be featured in our gallery all month, as well as on our website. However the exhibit will be no less engaging. VISION will focus on the rise, growth and progress of women over the past 100 years. Deb and Dee have put together an engaging schedule of events for the month including a Zoom lecture with Dr. Judy Pierson that will provide a forum for self-discovery.

Why take a "virtual" home tour this year? There are benefits!

- No blue booties!
- No gas to buy or parking to find.
- No stairs to climb!
- Take the tour in your pajamas at 2 a.m.
- Who cares if it rains!
- Fly over the houses with never-before-seen aerial birds-eye views (can't do that on foot!)
- Tour with friends over a bottle of wine.
- Hit pause and get a snack. Fast forward, resume or stop anytime.
- Win daily prizes just for coming back and visiting again.
- Click on direct links to product and service information right at your fingertips.

Passes for the event are still $30 and available now. Your passes gets you unlimited access for two weeks!

October 1 - 15, 2020
SandCastleHomeTour.com

We will continue our tradition of honoring "SHERos", ordinary women who have done extraordinary things. While the SHERo Awards have always been poignant, this year I expect they will be even more so given the circumstances of Covid-19. Please nominate someone you know to be recognized as a SHERo. The form can be found on our website - ArtLeagueOfOceanCity.org

Thank you for your ongoing participation and support that has allowed the Art League to continue to operate and present meaningful arts programming during these challenging times. Together we are stronger!

Rina Thaler
Executive Director

The VISION show, curated by sister artists Deborah Rolig and Diane Gray, focuses on the RISE, GROWTH and PROGRESS of women during the last 100 years. The artwork in this gallery-wide show reflects the everyday life and challenges of women - the self-discovery, the victories, the defeats, the mundane, and the extravagant. This is an opportunity to celebrate women's UNITY, STRENGTH, and VISION for the future.

Hey, good looking! What you got cooking?

How about cooking something up with us?

To keep the creative juices flowing, the Art League is publishing a hardcover book in autumn 2020 that will pair the visual and culinary arts, and we invite you to take part! Our beautiful book will be professionally printed, with full color pages and a bound hard cover, suitable for gift giving. We'll offer the book for sale in our gift shop, online on our website, at upcoming local events, and at bookstores.

Here's what you get when you participate: two facing pages in the book, pairing a recipe with a piece of original art, for a sponsorship fee of $60. You'll also receive a copy of the printed book and the opportunity to exhibit and sell your featured art during December at the Arts Center.

"During these times, many of us are creating beautiful pieces of art and cooking favorite family recipes," Aubrey Sizemore, Art League volunteer coordinator, said. "We thought publishing a book featuring these marvelous creations would be a fun way to share with others and a new means of support for the Art League."

Participants are asked to share original recipes from their own kitchens, provide a few words of the story behind the recipe, and include a piece of art that will be printed in full color on the page opposite the recipe. The art may be in any media, but vertical images are suggested.

"If someone would like to sponsor a page and submit a recipe, but is not an artist, we can pair you with an artist to illustrate your recipe," Aubrey continued. "We can help you make it happen."

For questions or more information, contact Aubrey at aubrey@artleagueofoceancity.org or 410-524-9433.

"My goals for the pottery studio at the OC Arts Center are simple: offer more unique classes and workshops intended to attract both novice and skilled pottery enthusiasts. I want to help students build on creativity, craftsmanship and artistic expression."

~ Robbie Johnson

Welcome, Robbie, our new pottery studio manager

We are pleased to welcome Robert Johnson as the Art Center's new pottery studio manager. Robbie takes over for our longtime manager Nancy Barnas, who has relocated to California to be nearer to family.

Robbie is a Salisbury native where he operates a home-based pottery business, Amused Studios. He learned pottery during his time working at Salisbury University as the head 3D technician. Since then Robbie has gone on to win multiple awards for his artworks and has studied and worked with many world-renowned ceramic artists. He is the current acting president of the Clay Guild of the Eastern Shore.

Robbie was already active in teaching pottery at the Arts Center, including pottery wheel classes and workshops. He also co-organizes the annual Clay-a-palooza pottery show in conjunction with the Clay Guild.
