Art can benefit our mental health

There have been many studies about the mental health benefits of creating art. But did you know that viewing artwork increases the blood flow in your brain, promoting feelings of empathy and triggering a surge of dopamine in the same area of your brain that registers romantic love?

Keep your brain sharp and your mood uplifted this winter by joining us in-person or on Zoom to take an art class, view our galleries, or participate in an art event. Destress and boost your mental well-being while you learn new skills and meet new friends. Classes are affordable and many require no art experience.

Also, be sure to mark your calendars for March 3-6 for our 6th Annual Ocean City Film Festival and experience the awe of independent film. Festival tickets and more information can be found at OCMDFilmFestival.com.

Thank you for your support. It allows us to have fun while serving the community through art!
